Text type 49

The Clash of the Chefs

Characters: Narrator, Chef John, Chef May, Head Judge Ma, three other judges

Scene 1: Cooking zone

The chefs are waiting near their cooking stations. They look tense.

Narrator: It's been over five minutes since the judges left to decide the winner. Everyone is anxious, especially our young chefs.

5 Chef John: (whispers to May) They said my fried rice with egg and luncheon meat was too oily. Then, they sent me away. I hope my rice rolls with beef and noodles with fish balls can save me!

10 Chef May: (whispers back) I'm worried too. When they ate my egg tarts and pineapple buns with butter, they looked as expressionless as statues. My mango pudding is as wobbly as a tower of cards in the wind, but they didn't seem to like it either!

Scene 2: In front of the cooking zone (10 minutes later)

The chefs and the judges are standing in a line, facing each other.

Judge Ma: The decision wasn't easy. Both chefs must keep improving, but...

15 Judge Ma pauses, sniffs the air, then moves towards John's cooking station.

Judge Ma: What's that pleasant smell?

Chef John: Macaroni in soup with ham, sir. I made it earlier for lunch. That's the leftover.

Judge Ma: Warm it up. I'd like to try it.

20 Chef John warms up the macaroni in soup and gives it to Judge Ma.

Judge Ma: (tastes the soup) Yummy! It reminds me of my grandma's soup.

Understand similes

A simile is a phrase that compares one thing to another. The comparison shows that the two things have something in common. It helps us create 'word pictures' and make ideas clearer. A simile always uses one of these expressions:

- as... as — The water is as clear as glass.
- like — He swims like a fish.

Try this!

Read the sentences and blacken ● the circles.

When they ate my egg tarts and pineapple buns with butter, they looked as expressionless as statues.

The adjective 'expressionless' tells us there is no expression on the face, the same as the faces of many statues.

1. How did the judges look when they ate the egg tarts and pineapple buns?

☐ B.

☐ C.

☐ D.

The football flew across the field like a rocket towards the goalkeeper.

2. How did the football fly?

☐ A. gently

☐ B. quietly

☐ C. quickly

☐ D. smoothly

Tip

How does a rocket fly?
